Photography regulations at Solbakken Camping

Since we generally like to have updated photographic material for publicity purposes in terms of attracting new visitors and members, it is necessary to be able to present NFS Solbakken visually - not only the nature that surrounds us, but also pictures depicting social life at our naturist campsite. As a consequence, we also like to have photos of real people.

We all go on vacation, and who does not like to take memories back home in the form of pictures/photos?

We must therefore accept that taking pictures at Solbakken Camping is a natural thing to do - but at the same time set up a framework for this, so that everyone can be comfortable taking as well as having pictures taken at Solbakken.

General photo rules on NFS Solbakken:

- Always ask first before being taken photo.
- Never take photos of children without asking parents first.
- Photography/filming may take place only with the express consent of all persons photographed or filmed.
- If there is any doubt as to whether consent has been granted or not, the camp manager or a Board Member can demand the camera to be handed in for reviewing (with analog cameras, the film will be developed at the owner's expense).
- No posting of pictures of others on your Facebook profile, etc. without approval by those in the picture.
- Members of the Press will always be accompanied by a person appointed by the Board.
- Whenever possible, visits by members of the Press will be announced on our notice board in due time.
- NFS Solbakken cannot guarantee that photos taken by the Press will NOT be used for any non-Solbakken purposes, when private individuals have consented to their picture being taken by the Press.

Special photography rules during Week 30:

There will be a number of photographers accredited by Solbakken to take pictures for Solbakken camping. These photographers will be presented on the first day of week 30 and a picture of each photographer will be posted on the notice board. The purpose of this is to generate photographic material for Solbakken Camping's Facebook profile, our web-site, and other promotional activity, including the annual Week 30 Journal. If you wish not to appear on these photographs, you must make sure that you stay out of the way!

Week 30 photos will be displayed on the TV in the 'Solgården' as a slide show each evening (during evening meals).
